General Electric Company Gets Court Order

Federal Commission Rule Blocked by Action

Oakland's KGO Had Been Given Clear Channel

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9. (P)—The General Electric Company's station WGY at Schenectady, N. Y., was given temporary permission today by the District of Columbia Court of Appeals to broadcast full time on a 790-kilocycle channel, the same frequency assigned primarily to KGO, the company's station at Oakland, Cal., pending a hearing on the station's merits.

The quality of the station's programs and the question of chain programs were not considered by the court. The sole question decided was the right of the court to restrain the Federal Radio Commission from enforcing its mandate to this station, including in the general power and frequency reallocation, which will take effect at 3 a. m. Sunday. No date was set for hearing the appeal.

HOGAN FIGHTS CASE

Frank J. Hogan, attorney for Edward L. Doherty and Harry F. Sinclair in the Teapot Dome and Elk Hills oil lease cases, represented the company. He asserted that the commission's order shutting down WGY after sunset, Pacific Coast time, amounted to confiscation of property.

Attorney Frank Scott for the commission said that allowing both stations to broadcast simultaneously would hamper the Midwest with heterodyne whistles and create a precedent which would cause "chaos" to the broadcasting band.

Parole Board Frees Prisoner

SAN QUENTIN, Nov. 9. (P)—Sid Kepford, serving a fifty-year sentence at San Quentin prison, was released on parole Tuesday. It was learned at the prison today, Kepford and Calvin Rowell, a fellow-convict, last January revealed to Warden Holohan the hiding place of three automatic pistols and a supply of ammunition secreted in the prison by Fred and Roy Cook, committed from San Francisco. Inmates of the prison, enraged at their betrayal, threatened to kill both of them.

Officials of the prison and members of the State Prison Board denied reports that Kepford was secretly paroled and spirited away to another State to prevent fellow-convicts from killing him. The parole application was considered in due course with others of the same nature. It was declared by Charles E. McLaughlin of Sacramento, a member of the board.

MELLON SIGHTS LAND OF UTOPIA

Faith in Hoover Brings Rich Vista to His View

Greater Growth in Wealth of Nation Forecast

High Living Standards Will Increase, He Says

BY JOHN F. MCCLAIN
 (Special to the Los Angeles Times)
 WASHINGTON (D. C.) Nov. 9. (Exclusive)—Higher standards of living, continued prosperity and a constant growth in world wealth and importance under the engineering and organizing genius of President-elect Hoover are Andrew W. Mellon's vista of the next four years.

Seated in his blue and mahogany office on the ground floor of the Treasury Building, the tall, slight and in the popular mind, enigmatic Secretary of the Treasury, today sketched his picture of America's business and financial future.

Talking with Mr. Mellon, one gains the impression of a man with strong emotions under complete control of an iron will. His clear, blue eyes are lighted with unusual vitality. His ruddy, healthy face betrays his 73 years of age. Yet his speech and manner are mild. Statements involving billions of dollars slip from his tongue in a casual, unemphatic way.

RECENT SPEECHES EXPLAINED
 "In your speeches during the campaign," I said to Mr. Mellon, "you spoke of 'great economic forces by which the average man's welfare is so greatly affected.' Really what did you mean by that?"

"That term," Mr. Mellon replied, "means a great many things."

"I was referring, primarily to such things as production and consumption, especially as affected by buying power and the influences that go to increase or decrease buying power."

"High wages, of course," the Secretary explained, "constitute the most important element. And wages are affected by the consumer's demand for goods which labor produces."

"Quantity production and increased efficiency, both in human labor and machinery, have their effect."

"Governmental policies or protection afforded by tariff and immigration legislation are important, and a sound policy in the production and marketing of agricultural products will do much to increase and sustain buying power."

NO SIGN OF LET-DOWN
 "Do you think the general economic factors of the business situation healthy?" I asked him, "there anything to indicate a let-down in present industrial activity?"

"I see no indication of a slowing up of industry. Most industries are able to regulate production more or less according to the demand. So long as reasonable caution is exercised and there is no undue piling up of inventories, there is no cause for concern."

"What, in your opinion, are the factors which have made the unusual and unique prosperity which industry has been enjoying in America for the last five or six years?"

"It was partly due, of course, to conditions following the war. First we were obliged to go through a cleaning-up period. It was necessary to readjust our inventories, to get rid of war-time taxes, to get the governmental debts, both domestic and foreign, in hand and to help in stabilizing currencies abroad. This has been largely done."

NATIONAL INCOME GROWS
 "In the last two or three years the country has started in on a new constructive period. The time lost by the war has been more than made up and from now on we can expect the natural and inevitable growth of a healthy country, both in population and in wealth, to set new levels such as never this nor any other country has ever reached before."

"You already discern evidence of what may be expected?" I asked.

"Yes," said Mr. Mellon, "our national income has passed $90,000,000,000 and is moving rapidly toward the $100,000,000,000 mark. That means that at the present time the per capita income for each man, woman and child in this country already is more than $700. Of our national income, increasingly large amounts go into savings. There is no exhaustion of our national resources and, leaving out of account war and other calamities, I can see no reason why the present upward trend in this country should not continue."

SERVICE TO BUSINESS
 "If by prosperity you mean a continuation of general well-being throughout the country and a steady improvement in our standard of living, there is no reason why it should not continue indefinitely. Of course, that statement is premised on the position that conservative and well-trying economic principles shall continue to be followed."

"How can the government be of the greatest service to business during the next few years?"

"In the first place, it can make sure that developments proceed along sound lines, as in recent years. Good statemanship consists as much of knowing what not to do as it does in taking affirmative action. I have already spoken of what can be done in maintaining sound tariff and immigration policies. Something can and will be done about agriculture and there are many other things besides."

"Will America's position as a creditor nation mean that for many years to come she will be required to loan money in large amounts to her debtors in order to continue to trade with them and to collect the debts owed to us by foreign debtor governments?"

"We shall, of course, continue to lend large amounts abroad. The savings of the American people must find outlet and our people will continue to invest wherever there is a prospect of securing the best returns on their money. But there is a good deal of nonsense

Spoils Police go in Cafe and Return to Find their Auto Missing From Curb

SPOKANE (Wash.) Nov. 9. (AP)—It was a case of the mouse daring to enter the cat's lair to match the cat's own piece of cheese here last night.

Two "prowl car" operatives of the police department parked their machine in front of a downtown cafe while they ate their lunch. When they returned the car had been stolen, they reported to headquarters.

"It may be a joke," it is said at headquarters, "but if it is some one is going to pay for it."

 talked about the importance of the debt payments in world trade.

AMERICA'S BUYING POWER
 "In the last fiscal year the total amount paid to us by foreign governments on account of principal and interest amounted to $208,000,000. During this same period our imports amounted to more than $4,000,000,000, and of this amount more than 65 per cent came in entirely free of duty. In addition to this, it is estimated that Americans traveling in foreign countries spent last year more than $700,000,000."

"You think, then, that American prosperity has a direct relation to Europe and the war debts?"

"Certainly, American buying power is one of the most important factors in Europe's recovery and future progress. In one of my speeches in the campaign I cited some very illuminating figures on this point. Although we have in this country less than 7 per cent of the world's population, we consumed last year 45 per cent of the world's total production of coffee, 33 per cent of the tin, 56 per cent of the crude rubber, 71 per cent of the sugar, 73 per cent of the raw silk, 36 per cent of the coal, 42 per cent of the pig iron, 47 per cent of the copper and 49 per cent of the crude petroleum. Furthermore, we had 23,000,000 out of 30,000,000 automobiles in the whole world. That is some measure of what American buying power means not only to ourselves but to European debtor nations and to the entire world."

"How will this buying power be affected by the rise in commodity prices, which people like Brookings expect to take place during the next twelve months?"

AS TO HIS OWN 'JOB'
 "I make it a rule to make no predictions about such matters. Given the facts as to production and consumption, one man's guess is as good as another's. As I see the present situation, money is plentiful and credit is available for all legitimate undertakings. Prices of copper and steel are not excessive and have remained fairly stable. We are in no immediate danger of excessive demand sending prices to such high levels as to make a slump in activity and consequently in prices inevitable. In the industrial world, things seem to be on a fairly even keel; and it is much better, of course, to have them so, with a slight upward tendency as at present."

"You think Mr. Hoover will be able to iron out some of the up and down which business and industry have always experienced from time to time?"

"I don't expect him to do the impossible, but I think he brings to the country special talents for analysis and wisdom, of which we have seen particularly in need just now. That is what I meant when I said that Mr. Hoover understood the economic forces with which we must deal. He already has given evidence of this and has shown something of what can be done by his administration of the Department of Commerce. His opportunities for achievement have been very greatly enlarged now that he has been called to the most powerful office in the world."

"And your own future, Mr. Secretary?"

"That is something else," said the white-haired Secretary with a smile.

GAMBLER KING PAINTED BLACK

"Galadiah of Chance" Called Poor Loser

Betting Expert Says That Rothstein Welched

Attorney Denies Name of Slayer Revealed

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. (AP)—Another and less romantic picture of Arnold Rothstein, popularly known as the gambler prince of Broadway, was drawn in the District Attorney's office today by one of his own cronies, the host at the head gambler's last fling at cards.

Before Rothstein was fatally wounded last Sunday the small fry along Broadway looked up to him as a sort of gambling Galadiah. He didn't drink and he didn't smoke. Even profanity was uncommon with him. He never cheated at cards, they said, and could lose with the same stoic calm with which he won.

And when he died the rumor went about that he had been killed because he refused to pay a debt incurred to sharpers who stuffed a deck with marked cards. His admirers saw his death as a sort of martyrdom on the altar of honesty.

DIFFERENT STORY
 But Jimmy Meehan, Broadway betting commissioner, in whose apartment Rothstein played the game where he dropped a roll of $200,000 and then welched on his IOU, told his version of the affair today, and through his eyes Rothstein was seen as a mean-spirited sort, a "sneaky" who was merciless in collecting debts but who pleaded poverty or cried thief when he lost.

Meehan didn't play in the game himself, he said, but he watched it closely and it was strange as a string. When Rothstein won a hand, Meehan told the District Attorney, he would take his winnings in cash, but when he lost he would give his IOU and when the game was over he asked for time, though his reputed fortune ran into the millions.

SELECT GROUP
 The principal winner, in 1928, was "Nigger" Nate Raymond, west coast gambler, who was questioned earlier in the week and then disappeared. Others around the table were Sammie and Meyer Boston, whose overcoat later was found in the room where Rothstein was shot; E. C. (Tiano) Tommy; Thomas Samuel and Meyer Boston, Joe Bernstein and Martin (Red) Bow.

The game, it was first said and then high spade, lasted all one September night and was halted by Raymond, who said he couldn't see any fun in winning any more money and paper and losing real money. At that time Rothstein had $10,000 of Raymond's cash and Raymond had $210,000 of Rothstein's.

It was then Rothstein asked for time, not up to that time, according to Meehan, saying anything about being "in good for more than this."

Meehan quoted him as saying, and Raymond ruefully nodded his head.

ASKS FOR DEBT
 On the last night, three days before the gambler was killed, Meehan said he and Raymond met Rothstein by chance in Lindy's restaurant, the place from which he was summoned to his death.

"I wish you could let me have some of that money, A. R.," Meehan quoted Rothstein as asking. "I'm flat broke. I haven't the price of a meal."

"Sorry," Rothstein is said to have replied, "I'm flat myself, but I have enough bets on on Hoover and others to cover what I owe you three times."

It was after this that Rothstein sent word that he thought he had been cheated and his creditors could "go bite themselves to death."

Meehan said he wasn't present when Rothstein was shot and the District Attorney said he believed him. "Tiano Tommy" also was questioned today and denied having witnessed the killing. Assemblyman Cantor, Rothstein's attorney, denied reports that before Rothstein died he had whispered the name of his slayer.

Cantor intimated that the gambler's will, drawn up two weeks before he died and signed on his deathbed, might make things a little clearer in some details, but he declined to reveal its contents before publication.

So serious has the situation become because of the increase in unemployment and the suffering of working class families that the Reichstag has been called to assemble Monday, a day earlier than planned.

BALLOTS REACH NEW PEAK

Total of 35,439,715 Already Has Been Counted, With Hoover Leading Smith by 6,186,109

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. (AP)—Returns of the country's avalanche of votes for President as cast in Tuesday's election had not been completed to night, three full days after the close of the polls.

The count, including today's straggling returns, disclosed a total of 35,439,715 votes had been cast for the two major party candidates, while the number cast for minor party candidates had not been tabulated. This is the greatest vote ever recorded.

Herbert Hoover's vote was expected to swell the total to 20,512,912, the largest ever polled by any candidate.

Alfred E. Smith's total stood at 14,226,802, the greatest vote ever polled by a Democratic candidate. Mr. Hoover's plurality in the tabulation of tonight's returns is 6,186,109.

While the results of election precincts to be recorded, the results will not be materially changed, but the bill which would place Mexico under the workings of the European quota act of 1924. It would reduce Mexican immigration from near 30,000 to something like 7000 a year and would deprive farmers of California and the Southwest of the Mexican labor upon which they depend to harvest their crops.

The plan of the restrictionist group which has a recent recruit in the person of Representative Johnson, is to have the House committee meet quietly in advance of the convening of Congress and report out an exclusion measure which would be a compromise between the Box bill already before Congress and Johnson's own proposal.

Representative Johnson during the recent campaign in his district in Washington, announced that he will father a bill which would restrict immigration from below the Rio Grande to one Mexican for each citizen of the United States immigrating each year to Mexico.

This would virtually wipe out entries from Mexico as only about 3000 persons qualifying as citizens of the United States take up permanent residence in Mexico annually.

At the same time it was stated at the office of Representative Box that the meeting of the immigration committee on the 21st inst. will be "executive" so far as any one knows and that upon the basis of testimony already taken the committee will be asked to report out a bill.

The testimony taken last week, while extensive, was incomplete from the standpoint of opposition of Mexican restriction. Spokesmen for various interests in California and elsewhere interested in preventing strong action left Washington with the understanding that nothing would be done until they had an opportunity to go into the economics of the situation in detail and present a remedy which would take care of them from a labor standpoint and at the same time satisfy the patriotic and other groups which were crying for restriction.

The understanding was that the House committee would rest on its oars until the entire matter has been canvassed by both sides.

OUTLOOK NOW DIFFERENT Today, however, the indications are that Chairman Johnson plans to have his committee meet quietly and report out a restriction bill without additional hearings.

Large employers of Mexican labor in California and the Southwest immediately were advised by representatives here of the turn of events and were urged to communicate with the House Immigration Committee asking a further hearing. If such requests come in sufficient numbers it is hardly likely Representative Johnson can turn them down, and if the matter is opened up for hearing again it is entirely probable a bill can be reported out and passed at the next session of Congress.

If Representative Johnson calls upon the State Department he will find, it is believed, that the department still stands upon the vigorous opposition to imposition of a quota on Mexico that was expressed by Secretary Kellogg before the Senate Immigration Committee last winter. The State Department is known to have its own plan for solving the Mexican problem along gradual lines, and if hearings are reopened this plan may come into the open this winter.

Even Mayor Thompson May Join Crusaders

Politics and Gang Alliance Facing Doom

CHICAGO, Nov. 9. (AP)—The "unholy alliance," as it has been called, between politics and crime in Chicago, trembled today from its second and sound poll thrashing and quailed under the threat of new official attacks upon it.

A Police Chief only recently appointed, a Sheriff newly elected, and a Prosecutor-elect, himself the victim of bombers several months ago, were organizing today to use in concert their three enforcement agencies to give Chicago's underworld a thorough housecleaning.

MAYOR MAY JOIN CLEAN-UP There was talk, too, that Mayor Thompson contemplates joining the police-force by using his executive shears upon numerous of the hold-overs whose policies have been scored by investigating bodies.

Following the defeat in the primaries of the ticket sponsored by Mayor Thompson and State's Attorney Grove, and the further surrendering of their ranks by Tuesday's vote, these two Republican leaders have come to a parting of their political ways.

Grove will be out of office in December, reduced in party power, and friends of the Mayor believe the latter will throw the strength of his office toward the

GENERAL BALKS AT CHEF ROLE

Private Calls Up Commanding Officer in Wee Small Hours, Asking Him to "Come Down to Cafe" and Show Cook Ham-and-Egg Method

TACOMA, (Wash.) Nov. 9. (AP)—A commanding general ought to know how to cook ham and eggs. At least that is what a private in the rear ranks decided here today.

Disatisfied with the way his "ham and" was being cooked at an all-night lunch counter, the soldier told the chef wrathfully: "Till call up the general and he'll tell you how to cook ham and eggs the way I want them."

Going to the telephone, he put in a call for Brig.-Gen. Michael J. Lenihan, commander at Fort Lewis, ten miles south of Tacoma.

After a considerable wait he finally got an answer from the other end. Gen. Lenihan had been aroused from a sound sleep to go to the telephone.

Giving his name, rank and company in true military fashion, the soldier then said: "General, I want you to come down town and show a chef here how to cook ham and eggs the way I want them."

There was an audible click in the receiver, and now Fort Lewis military police are co-operating with Tacoma officers in their search for the soldier, who still is "AWOL."

There were indications that an unprecedented shake-up of the police force by the Commissioner will be one of the first steps in the new program.

Ordnance Division Reports on Progress for Year

Semiautomatic Rifle for Soldiers Developed

Plans Also Mapped Out on Vital Raw Materials

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9. (AP)—Although peace prevails, the ordnance division of the War Department is keeping pace with the development of ordnance and equipment in other countries.

Maj.-Gen. Clarence C. Williams has informed Secretary of War Davis in his annual report that extensive studies of mobilization plans, antiaircraft machine guns, cross-country transportation equipment and efforts to develop a semiautomatic rifle for the individual soldier have been carried on with a fair degree of success.

"During the past year much progress has been made in the plans for rearmament with the latest type weapons on case of a major emergency," Gen. Williams reported.

"Under the direction of the Assistant Secretary of War great progress has been made in the readjustment of production schedules to the civilian industrial plans through the agency of procurement districts.

The development of studies and plans for the supply of critical raw materials in time of war has been very considerable during the past year. The progress in procurement planning, with limited personnel, is considered very satisfactory."

FLYNN TO DIRECT BIG FOX FILM

Laemmle Takes Flying Trip East—"Show Boat" Cause; Fritz Ridgeway Featured in Vilma Banky Film; Pangborn Signs for Fox Movie Lead

"From Hell Came a Lady," which ran its hectic course at the Hollywood Playhouse last spring, is going to be turned into a talking picture, as you know. Whether it will come out retaining all its cuss words or not isn't yet announced.

By the way, I suppose that will be another question for the hard-worked picture makers. Just how much of the original script dialogue of some of these recent Broadway successes will be allowed to remain in the talking-picture versions. At any rate, Laemmle's Flynn has been assigned by Fox Films, who bought the film and talking rights to this play some months ago, to direct the production. He is at present at work on the story along with the Fox scenario department, and is highly enthusiastic over its film possibilities.

Lionel Belmore made such a splendid impression in four stage versions of the play, as did also Bush, that one ventures to hope one may see them in their original roles in the talker.

Carl Laemmle Goes East
 Just what is to happen to Universal's "Show Boat" with regard to the sound effects is the question that just now is agitating the soul of President Carl Laemmle. Is it to have all or a part of the "Show Boat" specially written music as well as the spirituals in it, or will the original music remain hard as to lines and the stage version's music?

Perhaps Laemmle will find out on the trip he is to take back to New York next week. In any case it is known that "Show Boat" will have sound effects and musical numbers, and to those who like their moving pictures quiet these will doubtless prove noisy enough.

Laemmle is returning about December 21 for the holidays. There is just one other woman role in Vilma Banky's current Goldwyn picture, and that role is played by a very excellent actress who can be featured in the part. Fritz Ridgeway fills the bill as admirably as any actor around that yesterday she was signed for a part in the picture, which, you remember, is entitled "Children of the Fifth Avenue."

Miss Ridgeway had but twenty-four hours' notice to get ready to go to New York, and leaves tonight to join Miss Banky, Al Santell, and other members of the company in the east, where the picture, which is to be a talker, is being made.

The actress is originally of the stage, and of late has been an Orpheum headliner. Additions to Warner Cast Important additions to the cast of players supporting Dolores Costello in her newest Warner Brothers' Vitaphone production, "The Sign of the Cross," were announced yesterday.

Audrey Ferris, a baby star, has been assigned an important part in the picture, which is being directed by Albert Gillingwater. Others in the cast include Claude Rains, Dale Fuller, Tom Kennedy and Lee Moran. Michael Curtis is directing.

Barbara Kent for "Broadway"
 While there isn't a thing official about it, we hear on good authority that there is an excellent chance that Barbara Kent will play the lead in the picture, which is being directed by Albert Gillingwater.

will be home from Europe in time for Thanksgiving. Stuart has been many months acting for Fox, and he writes that he and the company have gathered enough material for two pictures, the organization traveling as far south as Morocco for scenes.

Franklin Pangborn With Fox
 That skittish comedian, Franklin Pangborn, fills from one laugh-getter to another. He has been signed now by Fox to play the leading-comedy role in a Movietone short-reel comedy called "Watch Out," which James Parrott will direct.

Myrtle Stedman Has been cast for an important role in Fox's "The Great White North," which features Nancy Carroll and John Roder.

ALEXANDER GOES AUTOING
 An automobile trip throughout Northern California, Washington and British Columbia is the itinerary planned by J. Grubb Alexander, playwright and comedian, Alexander is at present completing the dialogue on "The Bargain in the Kremlin," a Universal talking production.

Lots of people get divorced who could live happily together if they could only treat each other as courteously as they would treat strangers.

CHUCKLES from LIFE

One nice thing about a radio is that when the people who insist on taking you riding on Sunday afternoons come to see you, you can get even.

The Skeptics' Society is puzzled to know what to do about the Man of the Hour. A recent sample turned out to be good for only forty-three minutes.

Oh Man

"AND STUDY HARD HAVE HIGH IDEALS, BE HONEST, UPRIGHT AND TRUTHFUL - AND SOME DAY YOU TOO MAY BE PRESIDENT"

"YEAH? - SAY LISTEN DAD WHAT IS IT MY BOY?"

"WERE YOU EVER PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES? DIDN'T YOU DO ANY STUDYING WHEN YOU WAS A KID?"

"THAT KIND OF ROT MAY HAVE BEEN K.O. IN YOUR DAY AND AGE BUT IT SOUNDS LIKE A LOT OF BALONEY TODAY - COME COME DAD - DON'T HAND THAT OLD STUFF TO ME"

"THE WAY TO ATTAIN THE 'GREATEST GIFT IN THE HANDS OF THE PEOPLE' IS TO GET THE ORGANIZATION BACK OF YOU AND THEN GO OUT AND HUSTLE FOR VOTES"

"MEDITATING ON THE SUPERSTITION OF THIS MODERN GENERATION"

"I DON'T SEE A SIGN OF THAT AIRPLANE OR WINNIE!!"

"WELL, KEEP WATCHIN' AN' MAYBE WE'LL SEE PERRY'S SISTER, WINNIE!"

"THE ONE NIGHT I THOUGHT I HAD ALONE WITH MARY - AND OLD GOOSE NECK HAT TO HORN IN - HE'S BEEN IN THERE FOR AN HOUR - ACTING AS MASTER OF CEREMONIES - WILL HE EVER GO HOME?"

"AND I'VE BEEN LOOKING FOR THIS MOMENT FOR A WEEK - NOW - TAKE A CARD - ANY CARD - KEEP IT IN MIND NOW -"

"THIS IS A TRICK I DON'T KNOW WHETHER I CAN DO IT OR NOT - IT'S A LONG TIME SINCE I TRIED IT - I USED TO BE ABLE TO DO THIS EVERYTIME - I NEED A LITTLE PRACTICE - NOW WATCH -"

"SHE HAS BEEN FEELING BADLY, SKEEZIX, BECAUSE SHE JUST FOUND OUT SHE IS AN ADOPTED DAUGHTER. IT DOESN'T MAKE ANY DIFFERENCE, BECAUSE FOLKS LOVE THEIR ADOPTED CHILDREN JUST AS MUCH AS THEIR OWN."

Spaulding Has Full Strength for Portland Game

BY BOB RAY
"Times" Staff Correspondent
PORTLAND (Or.) Nov. 9. (Exclusive)—Bill Spaulding's University of California at Los Angeles Bruins spent today sharpening up their gridiron claws for their third Pacific Coast Conference test, which takes place tomorrow at Multnomah Field, where they take on the powerful Washington State Cougars. An ambitious and untiring gridiron leader, Spaulding, who had planned to uncork an aerial attack against the husky Washington State team, when asked how he thought the muddy field would affect the Bruins' chances, tactfully remarked: "Don't know."

BY ALAN J. GOULD

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. (P)—The tumult, the shouting and the battle for touchdowns reaches the season's crest. The virtual tomorrow, the week-end and the laurel wreaths will be sorted out next week. All along the college gridiron war front, the hand-to-hand conflict will be renewed while millions of non-combatants look on, trying to keep warm as well as enthusiastic. The big November blast has set in and only the hardest clans can hope to survive the rest of the campaign.

Jones to Start Substitutes Against Visitors

Occidental Favored to Win Over Engineers

BY HEAVEN DYER
Looks like a Trojan landslide at the Coliseum this afternoon unless the Arizona Wildcats are a lot wilder than they have any right to be. Although Howard Jones is starting a second-string lineup which includes only one regular, the Southern California minor plans to employ all physically fit regulars against the visitors, which means that Arizona is in for a lot of pounding.

The Coliseum game shares local interest with the Occidental-Caltech struggle billed for the Pasadena Rose Bowl. These two foes are rivals of many years' standing and quite frequently the unexpected happens when they collide. Oxy is pointing toward the Thanksgiving Day battle with Pomona at the Rose Bowl and doesn't intend that the Engineers shall block the way.

AT SAN DIEGO

La Verne and San Diego clash in the south in the other Southern Conference game of the afternoon. Pomona and Whittier play Monday at Whittier in the Armistice Day feature which these two teams have made so popular for many years.

READY TO SCORE

Consider the setting, and shed your tears with Mr. Creecy, who came within an inch of being a hero, and wasn't through no fault of his. The Romans led, 12 to 6. It was the fourth quarter with about three or four minutes to play.

California Eleven Favored to Defeat Washington on Seattle Field This Afternoon

SEATTLE (Wash.) Nov. 9. (Exclusive)—This city is soaked with rain and a deep enthusiasm to see the University of Washington eleven in what promises to be a genuine mud battle tomorrow afternoon on the water-beaten grounds of the Washington stadium.

Stanford Eleven to Use New Backfield in Game With Santa Clara

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 9.—A new backfield combination and two substitute ends will start the game here tomorrow with Adam Walsh's Santa Clara Broncos.

STANFORD YEARLINGS TO FACE BEAR BABES TODAY

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 9.—Coaches Husky Hunt and Rab-Bradshaw put their Cardinal freshman football squad through a final workout here today in preparation for the annual little big game with the California frosh in Berkeley tomorrow afternoon. Phil Wilson, former Los Angeles High School star and regular right half-back, turned out for practice yesterday for the first time in ten days. However, his right knee, which was injured in the Southern All-Stars game, is still bothering him, and there is little possibility that he will start in the California contest.

LINCOLN HIGH MACHINE UPSET BY POLYTECHNIC

Coach Pop Bates's Lincoln High eleven withered before the heavy Poly High grid machine and suffered their first defeat of the season to the tune of 13 to 0. The game, which was played at Patterson Field yesterday afternoon, was one of the hardest struggles ever fought in prep grid circles this year.

The Tiger backs just couldn't penetrate the heavy Poly line, while on the other hand, the Poly backs ripped right through the lower line and gained yardage at will.

The first period saw some fast and fancy playing. The struggle going on at times on Poly territory, and then on the Tiger's. It was not until the last minute of the period that the Poly machine began to show their superiority. A

Rio Grande Oil, setting another record price, continued to feature trading yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. On the transfer of nearly 16,000 shares of the lower-priced oil issues, Rio Grande soared 6 points to score a new peak at 184. The issue sold high practically throughout the whole session easing a couple of points for a short period in the afternoon and recovering quickly to close at 183 1/2. Rio Grande, after a quiet day the previous session, sold more actively yesterday and moved in a narrow range to close firm at 50 1/4. Standard Oil of California topped at 113 1/4 and finished at 113 1/4, up 1/4 net. Union of California, which advanced 1/4 to 53 1/4, while Union Pacific gained 1/4 to 53 1/4. ## MPHERSON CASE INQUIRY STARTS

Surprise Witnesses Tell
Stories at Quis

Testimony Likewise Taken on Jacobson Arrest

Investigation Will Go on at Session Tuesday

which she accused five police officers and herself of plotting to compromise Councilman Jacobson at her home, which resulted in his arrest and subsequent acquittal of charges of "vagrancy and lewd conduct" in the early part of August, 1932.

In the investigation of Mrs. Grimes charges the grand jury called as witnesses Frank Cox, her brother-in-law; Councilman Jacobson, and Joe Rickman, newspaper man.

Cox was before the jury as the first witness, and refused to discuss his testimony in detail. He denied the accusations of Mrs. Grimes and declared that the entire move was an attempt on her part to get publicity.

Mrs. Grimes refused to be photographed and was hurried away from the Hall of Justice immediately after completing her testimony. She would not discuss her questioning.

COUNCILMAN TESTIFIES

Councilman Jacobson spent approximately one hour with the jury, testifying in detail. He denied the accusations of Mrs. Grimes and declared that the entire move was an attempt on her part to get publicity.

Mrs. Grimes refused to be photographed and was hurried away from the Hall of Justice immediately after completing her testimony. She would not discuss her questioning.

The facts set forth in the purported affidavit of Mrs. Grimes were carefully studied yesterday by attorneys of the offices of the District Attorney, and comment lent considerable prominence to the belief expressed that the document failed to set out any criminal charges on which true bills can be based.

AFFIDAVIT BRINGS ACTION

The inquiry conducted by the grand jury into the arrest of Councilman Jacobson was started over a sworn affidavit presented to the jury by Mrs. Grimes, in which she charged that the affair was a "frame-up," directed by political leaders opposed to Jacobson, and carried out by members of the police department.

In her statement Mrs. Grimes declared she was promised $250 cash and a monthly allowance of $100 for the remainder of her life for her part in the scheme to compromise Councilman Jacobson, so-called underworld king, as behind the plot, she said, by her brother-in-law, Frank Cox, a police officer and member of the vice squad.

Mrs. Grimes asserted that Marco wanted Jacobson caught in a compromising position because of the Councilman's fight on vice conditions in Los Angeles, and that the brother-in-law wanted recognition for police services with a promotion. The woman admits her guilt as an accomplice in the "plot" to persuade Jacobson to visit her and drink liquor, and be discovered in such a situation that he could be forced to sign statements when the police presumably broke into the room.

She declared that she discussed the plan with Cox and was informed by her relative that she was acquainted with Jacobson, and that he told her that she could be of valuable assistance to the police in the vice squad and also aid Marco in murdering the Councilman.

PILOT PREPARED

In her affidavit detailing the steps that were taken to "frame" Jacobson, Mrs. Grimes states that she met Marco and Cox at the Cox home early in August. She proposed to carry out the plot for financial aid, and was according to the statement, she declares that the three men went to her home and went over the plan in detail, and it was arranged that the police officers were to be hidden around the house.

Mrs. Grimes tells of the night of the escape and declares that Marco left about half a pint of whiskey in her home, and also informed her that he had brought the police officers with him and told her not to worry, and that Guy McAfee, Charles Crawford, Detective Dick Lucas, Rusty Williams, Harry Raymond, Bert Wallis, Police Chief Davis, Police Commissioner Rodney Webster and Det. Alvin Keyes were back of the plan.

In telling of the visit of Councilman Jacobson, Mrs. Grimes declares that she attempted familiarities which were repulsed; that she offered him whiskey, which was refused, and that falling to "get him in a compromising position," she gave the prearranged signal.

She claims that she was attempting to throw her arms around the Councilman when the officers crashed through the door, but that he had pushed her away.

She then tells of the arrest, the accusations, the trials and of her attempts to obtain more money from Marco, whom she has visited in the County Jail. She declares that Marco then informed her that he could do nothing more for her financially.

PAYMENTS ASSERTED

In detailing payments made to her for her part in the schemes, Mrs. Grimes sets out in her affidavit that she received $250 from Marco on August 6, the morning after her arrest of herself and Jacobson at her home, which she says was paid her in the bathroom of the home of Cox, her brother-in-law, at 900 North Occidental Boulevard. On the following Monday she claims she received an additional $250, and that a third $250 was made by Cox about two weeks after the raid. She claims that she received her first monthly allowance of $100 on September 1 of this year. The affidavit sets out that on October 1, this year, Cox gave her $50, saying that this was final, and that by her visits to Marco in the County Jail she was able to obtain a payment of $40, and that when she

Grand Jury Hears Story of Asserted Frame-up

Principals in Sensational Case Testify

was told this would be the last she decided to make her part in the entire plot public.

The statement, which is lengthy, is reported to close with the following:

STATEMENTS CHARGES

"At no time have I ever had any immoral relations with Jacobson. Any statements made by me at the time of the raid or at any other time previous to this one is false and untrue, and was made under duress when I was under great nervous strain. These false and untrue statements were partly dictated by others and I was asked to sign them without knowing the contents of said statements. I am making this statement in order to do my best in righting the wrong I have done Mr. Jacobson and his family and hoping that those who persuaded me to bring disgrace upon myself and my own family, as well as others, may be brought to justice." The affidavit is dated of the 8th inst., according to reports.

COUNCIL PLEADED

Councilman Jacobson was congratulated yesterday by the Council as the result of the disclosures by Mrs. Grimes in which she said that the case involving her and the Councilman was a "frame-up" by the Councilman's political enemies. At the opening of yesterday's Council session, Councilman Martin said: "This Council should extend its congratulations to Councilman Jacobson on account of the exoneration of all blame he has received. I so move."

Councilman said: "I take pleasure in seconding the motion of congratulation, as I have always had 100 per cent confidence in Councilman Jacobson."

The clerk then called the roll and the vote was unanimous. President Bonelli in announcing the vote looked at Councilman Jacobson and said: "You know that this is a sincere expression to you by the City Council."

Councilman Jacobson was visibly affected, but made no statement. After the Council session, he said:

JACOBSON GRATIFIED

"Naturally I feel gratified at the developments in the case. I have always felt certain that the accusation against me would be vindicated and the facts of the 'frame up' against me brought to light."

"The public will remember that day after day I spoke and worked against Albert Marco. Now the truth of the charges I made against him has been proved."

"I am pleased at the vote of confidence and congratulation given me today by my colleagues in the City Council. And I am grateful to my friends who have stood loyally by me during these long, dark days."

DAVIS ORDERS INVESTIGATION

the rumormongers over the Jones-Collins case, argued individually and collectively with the commissioners that the commission should not have referred the investigation to the Chief on the ground that he had been named in the Callie Grimes affidavit.

EXPLANATION MADE

Commissioners Schweitzer, Gohm, Pierce and Gilmore scouted the assertions that there is anything wrong with the action. They declared that Chief Davis, despite the woman's charge, was out of the city during the asserted "frame-up" of Jacobson and did not return until two days afterward, and that as manager of the police department he is the proper person to investigate and report.

"We want it understood," declared Schweitzer, "that this commission is not going to try to hide anything or protect anybody who is doing wrong. Whatever the report of Chief Davis is on the matter, the commission will decide on the subsequent action and it will be fair and just. Because we hold an executive session to talk over things does not mean we are trying to hide anything."

Following retort by Secretary Jeffers of the Police Commission of the action, Chief Davis at once directed an order directing First Deputy Chief Lyons, head of

HIS RESPONSIBILITY

The order was so worded that the responsibility not only for the carrying out of the investigation but for disposition of evidence obtained was placed definitely on the shoulders of the first deputy chief. This, interpreted by the officials concerned, meant that Lyons finds as a result of the investigation, that the actions of any of the officers involved in the arrest of Councilman Jacobson were irregular, it will be up to him to make the suspensions he deems advisable.

Immediately after the order was received by him Lyons stated that he will set the investigation under way at once.

"And," he said, "if I find that any of the officers took action in that arrest which was not proper, I certainly will order their suspensions."

The order given to Lyons read: "Attached hereto you will find a Police Commission order asking that an investigation be made concerning participation of police officers in the arrest of Councilman Carl I. Jacobson on August 8, 1932."

"You are hereby directed to make, immediately, a complete investigation of the actions of all officers who participate in the arrest of Councilman Carl I. Jacobson on August 8, 1932. You will take whatever action seems appropriate, based upon your findings."

SECOND OUTLAW OIL WELL AFIRE

company officials would give no definite statement.

C. C. Horton, secretary-treasurer of the Bell View Oil Company, urged that sightseers stay away from the Santa Fe field. He said the long lines of automobiles jammed the roads leading to the field and retarded transportation of men and fire-fighting apparatus to the well.

He also stated that the company is interested in the well not to call the local office as all information that the company can give out will be published.

A cord of deputy sheriffs has drawn a restricted traffic zone around the Santa Fe district, and watchers are not allowed a close view.

PROBLEM SERIOUS

Only six days ago engineers succeeded in capping the Geity gusher after a forty-nine day battle and most of the men who were still on the job were rushed to the new fire menace. The two wells are only a few hundred yards apart, but the Bellview fire presents a more serious problem in that it is situated in the center of the field, thickly studied by rigs and storage tanks.

Four small storage tanks are near the Bellview well and their contents were consumed as the gasser ignited.

The Bell View hole is emitting mostly gas. The gas, however, is coming out under great pressure, causing the ground to shake for a radius of several blocks. The heat is intense and men on the job yesterday worked with several streams of water directed on them for protection. Flames are shooting more than 100 feet in the air and lighting up an area for miles around.

TONS OF MUD

When the well blew in, the crew had just removed the drill pipe and were preparing to run tubing down the hole. The well was expected to come in within a few hours and the capped tubing would have prevented it from running wild. The underground pressure, however, was too great to hold back any longer and it tore to the surface, pushing tons of mud with it. None of the six crew members was injured. The steel rig above the Bellview melted down in a few minutes.

More than 100 men worked in the fire zone yesterday, and this number is expected to be augmented when engineers formulate a definite plan.

Oil men estimate that the well under normal conditions would produce oil, probably 10,000 barrels a day, and give off 25,000,000 feet of gas under 2000 pounds pressure.

The drilling rig was electrically operated and said by oil experts to be one of the best equipped on the field.

OIL ACTION DEFAULT TO BE FOUGHT

Attorney Says Delay on Answer Accidental in Suit for $2,600,000

Default in a suit for $2,600,000 damages brought by Warren E. Duell and C. K. Cole against the Rio Grande Oil Company was entered in Superior Court yesterday when the defendant company failed to file an answer to the complaint within the specified time.

As a result of the default entry the case will come up Tuesday before Judge McComb for the purpose of determining the amount of the judgment to be returned unless attorneys for the company upset plans of the plaintiffs.

The action charges fraud in connection with the leasing of oil property to the Rio Grande company to lease 800 acres of land in the Elwood field near Santa Barbara and was filed by Attorneys Spray, Frankley, Campbell and Nichols for Duell and Cole.

It is contended by the plaintiffs that they entered into agreement with the Rio Grande company to lease 800 acres of land in the Elwood field to be used in prospecting for oil. Duell and Cole were to get 100 acres and the remaining company 100 acres and the remaining was to be sold.

Following negotiations it was charged that the company was to be sold to the Rio Grande company for $250,000. Later they discovered that the company was worth several million dollars, and they are seeking damages by charging misrepresentation and fraud.

The complaint and Thursday at 5 p.m. was the time limit for an answer. In a statement last night, Duell and Cole, who were sunk on the oil company, declared that by accident the demurrer, which he had expected to file was delayed.

The attorneys for the plaintiffs, who waited at the County Clerk's office to take advantage of the mistake, said they would file a demurrer.

"The Rio Grande Oil Company was sued by Mr. Duell on what he regarded as a nuisance action," said Mr. Dunnigan. By law it had until Thursday, 5 p.m., to enter its appearance. By accident it did not appear until Friday at 9 a.m.

"Plaintiffs attorneys waited at the County Clerk's office at 9 a.m. to take advantage of this mistake and to file a demurrer," said Mr. Dunnigan. The attorneys for the Rio Grande company declared that this will not prevent the determination of the case on its merits.

Superior Court Judge Duell and Cole, defended the action of attorneys for the plaintiffs last night, saying that because of the refusal of officers of the oil company to respond to subpoenas issued for the purpose of getting depositions from them.

Neighborly Aid of Woman Helps to End Battle

The "woman next door" was the heroine of a little battle which raged for a few moments last night in the apartment of Dr. C. H. Heskett, who lives at 1441 North McCadden Place.

The battle was between Dr. Heskett and a man whom he had employed as a janitor in his office at 1441 North McCadden Place. The man was a janitor in the office of Dr. Heskett, who lives at 1441 North McCadden Place.

The latter, Jose Rodriguez, of 319 West Second street, had called for the purpose of collecting back salary. He was a janitor in the office of Dr. Heskett, who lives at 1441 North McCadden Place.

Dr. Heskett, who lives in an adjoining apartment, came to Dr. Heskett's aid, and together they succeeded in subduing the ex-janitor.

They tied him up and called for the police. Rodriguez was bound under a double charge, assault with a deadly weapon and violation of the section of the penal code which deals with the use of force and threats.

Dr. Heskett was cut so severely about the face that he was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital for treatment.

CANCER EXPERT TELLS FINDINGS

Dr. Maud Slye of Chicago
Addresses Physicians

Peculiarities of Scourge Set Forth in Address

Trojan School Dean Speaks on Medical Education

Cancer, while hereditary, may appear in one side of the family, yet if there is no evidence of the disease in the other side all of the children will be cancer free according to Dr. Maud Slye of Chicago, who last night addressed the semi-annual meeting of the Southern California Medical Association in the auditorium of the Beaux Arts Building at Eighth and Beacon streets.

Dr. Slye is regarded as one of the leading authorities on the development of this disease from which according to medical statistics, one man in ten beyond a certain age is now dying. She has devoted eighteen years to the study of cancer and in that time has bred more than 73,000 mice with which to carry on her studies.

"Mice are chosen because they are susceptible to cancer in the same manner as man, and in the parts of the body usually attacked by the disease," Dr. Slye explained last night. "All of our studies have been with spontaneous cancers arising in the natural life of the animals, exactly as man's spontaneous cancers arise. All the animals were allowed to live out their span of life, and autopsies were performed as quickly after death as possible."

CHIEF FACTORS

"There are apparently two factors necessary for the production of cancer, first, the susceptible stock, and second, irritation or chronic stimulation of the type fitted to induce it."

"If we would uniformly permit examination after death, as is the custom in the case of laboratory animals, the exact factors in cancer in man could be obtained. If these facts were kept in permanent record, in two generations, by proper breeding, it may be possible to eliminate cancer from human families."

Dr. William D. Cutler, dean of the medical school of the University of Southern California, discussed the subject of medical education. Among other statements, he declared that medical colleges are spending from three to ten times the sum paid by students to educate those students.

PRESENT TENDENCY

"It is more important," he said, "that the young practitioner know how to treat headache, backache and other common ailments, than to make a blood transfusion. There is too great a tendency on the part of young men to look upon the patient as an interesting case, instead of seeing him as a human being in need of help."

Dr. Cutler described the medical Chautauquians organized to bring to the people the latest and most modern methods of surgery and medicine, and other knowledge open to the man or woman practicing and when they come near the earth, they are attracted to it and are pulled off their course. Thus some of them come within the range of the naked eye of the human being and they are commonly called by the layman "showbiz stars." But they are as unlike the stars as the microscope is unlike the whale.

The meteor becomes visible because when it strikes the earth's atmosphere, the friction created by the tremendous speed lights it up as it were. A meteor's speed has been estimated from ten to forty miles per second. The astronomer calls the meteor infrequent, but the meteorologist calls it a common occurrence.

This morning Dr. Cecil Reynolds, Dr. William Hays, Dr. Grant H. Lapham, and Dr. W. B. Dakin, will present papers which later will be discussed. The afternoon session is to be devoted to discussions presented by Dr. F. J. Hombach, San Francisco; Dr. H. H. Linsner, San Diego; Dr. Henry H. Linsner, Los Angeles; and Dr. Francis M. Smith of La Jolla.

THREATS DEFEAT COMEDY

It is virtually impossible for a man to be funny profitably while remembering how his wife threatened suicide the night before, Earl T. Montgomery submitted yesterday to Judge Rosenkrantz, in Superior Court, Judge Rosenkrantz could see that, and so Montgomery is not in contempt of court.

Montgomery, screen comedian and director, before the court to explain why he was in breach of the alimony due Mrs. Beulah Beatrice Montgomery at the rate of $100 a week, pending trial of their divorce suit.

"He earns $2000 a week," Mrs. Montgomery declared. Montgomery freely admitted that under normal circumstances he could be funny—even funnier.

"But it is impossible as things have been with me lately," he said. "I'm out of a job. You can't be funny enough to get paid for it if your mind is all upset. Mine has been. Mrs. Montgomery for a long time has been threatening every night to kill herself, and that sort of thing worries a man."

On the showing that he has no present income, Montgomery was discharged of the contempt of court.

YUCAIPA APPLE SHOW SPLENDID

Eighth Annual Festival Surpasses Other Years

Poultry and Rabbits Form Additional Attraction

Contest for Apple Queen Develops Keen Rivalry

BY BURTON L. SMITH
"Times" Staff Representative
YUCAIPA, Nov. 8.—If Adam had been tempted with fruit such as is on exhibit at the ninth annual apple festival, which opened here this morning, he would have fallen harder and further than is recorded in the story in Holy Writ. More than thirty varieties of America's favorite fruit are on display in the big tent, which has been erected on the spacious grounds adjoining the clubhouse of the Women's Club, which sponsors this annual event. From a small strictly local festival the Yucaipa Apple Show has grown to where it occupies a prominent place among the many shows and fairs for which Southern California is noted throughout the country.

To the women of this prosperous valley goes the credit for the show's growth and fame, as they have put forth unusual efforts to make of the festival a financial success, using the money to lift the bonded debt of their clubhouse and grounds. The attendance today is said to be the largest of any first day in the history of the show.

Connected with the festival in a special tent is an exhibition of poultry and rabbits, which is one of the largest and most interesting shows of its kind.

COMEDY INCLUDED
The entertainment program includes a three-act comedy produced by local talent under the direction of Wilfred Grey of Inglewood. The play is to be produced tonight and Saturday night in the clubhouse and each evening will be followed by a dance under the auspices of the A. A. A. club.

A large stage in the main tent was given over to San Bernardino pioneers, many of whom came to this country in covered-wagon days, who related how in the lifetime of men and women now living this valley had grown and been developed from a vast and nonproductive region to be one of the finest deciduous-fruit countries on the American continent.

The Armstrong Nurseries of Ontario have a most attractive display that is commanding much attention, which is only a part of the industrial division, that is adding much interest to the show.

SCHOLARSHIP FOR QUEEN
The Rotary and Kiwanis clubs of Redlands are competing with this community to bring forth the most popular young lady, who will become the winner of a scholarship in Redlands University offered by the Women's Club. The candidates are Corale Delator, representing the Rotary Club; Miss Ruth Percival, the Kiwanis; and Miss Mary Jane Haskin, Yucaipa. The contest will close with the show Monday night when the presentation of the scholarship will provide the climax for the exhibition.

CUSTOMS OFFICERS BUSY

ANCIENT HEIRLOOM WILL ADORN QUEEN

Fullerton, Nov. 9.—The romance of old Spain and the colorful lure of a public celebration in the New World will be blended at Orange Monday night when Miss Tiny Yorba of this city, a true daughter of the dawn, representing the local Legion, will appear as Queen Isabella at the ball of all nations, the crowning feature of Orange county's Armistice Day fest.

In a costume that is expected to be historically correct to the smallest detail, and carrying a marvelous Spanish shawl brought from Spain by Jose Antonio Yorba, her great-grandfather, who came to Southern California in 1769, Miss Yorba is believed by her friends to have an excellent chance of being selected as the queen of all nations in a contest to be held in connection with the event.

In designing her royal robes, Miss Yorba consulted numerous local artists and designers. In addition, Miss Yorba has received many valuable suggestions from John E. Stevens, author of the "Mission Play," even the jewels that Miss Yorba will wear will be authentic in every particular.

The shawl that Miss Yorba will carry is of heavy silk and embroidered on both sides. Gorgeous roses and vines of red and white are worked on a background of white. The shawl is the property of Mrs. Alonzo E. Yorba of Placentia, who says that she has refused offers as high as $5000 for the heirloom.

AIRPLANES SEEK MISSING YOUTH

Imperial Valley Boy Not Seen Since Monday

Left Home in Car With Gun and School Books

Family Fears Lad Wounded or Lost in Water Holes

CALEXICO, Nov. 9.—On the theory that he may have been wounded by an accidental shot from the duck gun which he carried, airplanes are being used today in the search of Kenneth L. Smith, 15-year-old high-school boy who disappeared from his home here last Monday morning and has not been heard from since. Officers seeking the boy early this week learned that he had purchased shotgun shells at the Asher country store a few minutes after leaving his ranch home, two miles east of here. Members of his family believe he went hunting in some of the water holes on the east side of Imperial Valley, or in Mexico and that he either became lost or was injured in an accidental discharge from his gun.

The boy left home in a small coupe, taking his lunch and school books with him. When he failed to return home that night, his parents started an investigation and learned that he had not attended his classes in Calexico High School during the day.

Boy friends expressed the opinion that he had started for Colorado, where one of his former chums is working. The parents discounted this theory, however, when they learned that the boy had not drawn any of the money which is deposited in his account in a local bank. He had neither money nor a checkbook with him, they said. The father, A. M. Smith of the Earl Fruit Company, appealed to officers and friends today to search for the boy.

Father and Son Badly Hurt on Grade Crossing
MONTONE, Nov. 9.—G. Martinez, 17 years of age, may die and his father is in Redlands Hospital seriously hurt as the result of their car being hit by the Luganville car crossing of the Santa Fe today by a switch engine. Witnesses stated that the two men evidently did not hear the whistle of the engine. The light car was smashed to pieces and the pair thrown out and mangled. The boy is injured internally. The father is badly bruised and cut but will recover, it is believed.

BRIDGE HEARING LISTED
SAN DIEGO, Nov. 9.—Announcement that the War Department has under consideration the application of the California Bridge and Tunnel Company for approval of plans for a new bridge across the San Diego Bay, connecting San Diego and Coronado, and that a public hearing will be held at the office of the Harbor Commission at 9 a.m. on the 22nd inst. was made today by Maj. C. P. Gross, district manager.

OVERPRODUCTION VIEWED
Government Agriculture Head Tells Growers of Dangers in Excesses and Foreign Competition

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 9.—The danger of overproduction was pointed out this afternoon at the Farmers' and Fruit Growers' Convention by Nils A. Olsen, chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture. Dr. Olsen also emphasized the need for intelligent planning and marketing. He stated that through the Department of Agriculture and various State agricultural schools, the best of information is made available to tillers of the soil. He urged the farmers to take advantage of this highly valuable aid to their industry.

Speaking especially to fruit growers, Olsen said that, although there has been some increased demand for fruit due to growth in population and increased national prosperity, the population gain is slowing up and other factors may prevent a continued expansion of the market.

COMPETITION STRESSED
"Competition from the established fruit centers of Southern Europe," the speaker said, "is at present a real danger rather than a quality basis. It is from the new fruit producing areas such as Australia, South Africa and New Zealand that the most formidable competition will arise."

"But far more significant than the volume of production is the fact that a great deal of attention is being paid to improving the quality and packing of the fruit and to market it efficiently overseas. The methods used in California have been and are being carefully studied in foreign countries."

JINX FOLLOWS INTO HOUSE

Woman Recovering from Crash Greeted by Car Entering Through Wall of Room

VENTURA, Nov. 9.—An auto accident "jinx" seems to be following Mrs. Roy W. Johnson. This morning it sent a sedan crashing into the parlor of her home on Ventura avenue as she lay ill in a bedroom, recovering from the shock of an accident at Moorpark a month ago, in which one person was killed and she herself was injured.

Neither Alfred Willard, high school boy driver of the car, nor a youthful friend was hurt. Mrs. Johnson carries a scar on her face from an Idaho accident eleven years ago. "It hasn't gotten me yet," she commented, "but when a car follows you into your own home it looks as if it might."

HABITUAL CRIMINAL SENTENCED
Prior Felony Convictions and Admission of Guilt on New Charge Involved

SANTA ANA, Nov. 9.—Edward Baker, alias Edward Davis, 45 years of age, local real estate salesman, who pleaded guilty to a series of burglaries throughout Orange county during the past year, in an admitted habit of felony convictions in other States, was today sentenced by Superior Judge Allen to life imprisonment at the State Prison at Folsom. Under the sentence, Baker will not be eligible to parole for twelve years.

Following recovery of a large amount of stolen goods by the Sheriff's office, and the police of Anaheim and Santa Ana several weeks ago, Baker made no defense. He pleaded guilty today and sentence was immediately passed.

The newly selected pastor was in charge of a pulpit at Hermosa Beach for more than two years. He has established a home at 309 South Citron avenue.

DRILL HITS WORKMAN
Victim Accidentally Falls Rope, Causing Machine to Fall

GLENDALE, Nov. 9.—Charles Shelton, an employee of the Hudson, Bonney Lumber Company, received a fractured skull today when a heavy electric drill fell from a scaffold, striking him on the head. The drill was being used to drill a hole in a wall when it accidentally fell from the scaffold and struck Shelton on the head. He was taken to the Ramona Hospital, where he died without regaining consciousness. The other girls, Margaret Drew, Elizabeth Davis, and Frances Clark, were also taken to the Ramona Hospital, where it was said that their injuries were serious but would probably not prove fatal. Miss Clark was still unconscious tonight. The girls' car was overturned but Mrs. Davis's machine remained upright and she escaped with scarcely a scratch.

Thongs Seeking Reservations for Tahquitz Drama
PALM SPRINGS, Nov. 9.—Preparations are completed here to entertain a large throng for the play, "Tahquitz," to be staged in the amphitheater in Tahquitz Canyon near the city limits.

Reservations indicate that hundreds of residents of Los Angeles and Hollywood are planning to take advantage of the Armistice Day week-end to motor to the desert to view the picturesque and community play and enjoy the hospitality of the famous hostesses here.

Unusual features of the desert play, which is a dramatization of a famous Indian legend, are elaborate sunset scenic effects, elaborate pantomime and weird ceremonial dances and incantations of medicine men of the six tribes of Indians participating.

SEARCH FAILS TO REVEAL BODY

Aviators and Boatmen Seek Remains of O'Keefe

Mystery Develops as to How Pilot Left Plane

Dragging Operations Fail Near Wreckage

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 9.—Search for the body of Leonard O'Keefe, believed to have been thrown from an airplane that he was piloting shortly before it crashed yesterday in Glorietta Bay, was resumed today. Dragging operations carried on for more than five hours last night at the scene of the crash failed to locate the body.

Marvin Dorland, 20 years of age, of 3930 Third street, passenger in the plane, was killed as a result of the mishap. O'Keefe, son of former City Attorney O'Keefe, was at the controls when the plane took off from the Midway Airport here about 11 a.m. yesterday. It was said. Just before the plane crashed, however, it was seen flying upside down, with apparently only one man in it.

Investigation of the wreckage showed that O'Keefe's life belt was broken. Whether he was thrown from the plane while it was flying upside down has not been determined. Today's search was being made by boat operators on the bay and searching parties in airplanes.

Dorland's body was taken to the Johnson Saum funeral establishment. Dorland is the son of F. N. Dorland, 3850 Third street. He was reported seen by naval aviators, who said that O'Keefe's plane was flying upside down. The plane crashed in about four feet of water and the engine was buried in the mud. The wreckage was loaded on the navy barge yesterday afternoon and taken to North Island.

Sierra Madreans Almost Cause Riot
Council Chamber Regarding Show

SIERRA MADRE, Nov. 9.—A near riot broke out last night in the Council Chamber of the Property Owners' Association gathered to hear speakers at the proposed repaving and widening of the main thoroughfare to westerly city limits for which plans and specifications were prepared by Henry Gierlich, engineer.

A roar of "noes" answered a question by ex-Mayor Topping "if the people were satisfied with Councilmen Belohavak and Isaacs," who are in favor of putting through the project of repaving and widening the main thoroughfare against an asserted protest of 85 per cent of the property owners.

Wyant's brief praise of the Council and declaration that they were willing to co-operate with the property owners brought forth a roar of applause which drowned out the speaker's voice until he was forced to discontinue.

Chairman Smith's gavel could not be heard, and order was restored only when executives warned that the meeting would have to be adjourned unless the noise ceased.

After Isaacs' persistent and repeated attempts to present Wyant were refused, he gained the floor once more and attempted to cross question City Attorney Baker on a motion by Howard Lieben that the association go on record as favoring

Reading Matter Produced by Sierra Madre Woman Forms Red Cross Exhibit

SIERRA MADRE, Nov. 9.—One of the principal exhibits at the American Red Cross bazaar and entertainment tonight in the social hall of the First Congregational Church is a Braille writer for the blind and a recently completed story which was written on the machine by Mrs. M. D. Welsher, of 517 West Highland avenue. The story, according to Mrs. Welsher, will be sent to the blind war veterans at Seattle.

Mrs. Welsher, who was chairman of the local Red Cross during the World War, took up Braille writing as a hobby four years ago, through Red Cross headquarters at Washington. She has had two books accepted for the Congressional Library and is now furnishing other stories and articles for the blind at various institutions. An average book composed by the Braille writer comprises from 75 to 100 pages to the volume, and from eight to ten volumes to the book, she said.

Tonight's program is the official opening of the annual Red Cross roll call which will end Thanksgiving. W. R. Humphries is chairman. Douglas Moore, assistant manager of the Pacific Coast branch of American Red Cross was the principal speaker of the evening.

NOVEMBER 10, 1928.—[PART II.] 11

This image shows a dark, textured vertical strip, likely a book cover or endpaper. The material appears to be a dark, possibly black, fabric or paper with a fine, vertical ribbed texture. There are visible signs of wear, including small white specks and faint, irregular lines that suggest handling or age. The lighting is somewhat uneven, with a slightly lighter area towards the top and a darker, more shadowed area towards the bottom. The overall appearance is that of an old, well-used object.
